Newsletter September 2021

Dear colleagues,

We hope you had a good summer and a well-deserved rest. The EuroTab Council (ETC) wishes to welcome our community with our first Newsletter after the summer break.

COVID

Covid had a strong impact in our countries and our work. As we continue to monitor the effects of the global pandemic, we are happy to see the slow return of in-person workshops. We hope for a better situation in the time to come and are pleased to address you in an optimistic mood around our method.

Applications

The large number of applications for EuroTAB now is also good news and provides hope for the continuation of the Feldenkrais Method. This goes for both assistant trainer, trainer and training, which keeps ETAB busy. Earlier this year ETAB were surprised to find that we recently received more applications than other TABs.

There has been concern for the aging population of training staff and practitioners, even though in September 2021 a new Feldenkrais Training Program in hybrid format started at Feldenkrais Institut Wien under the guidance of Educational Director Donna Ray. The training program is almost fully booked with a young international group of participants from 17 different countries. Among them are participants from countries like India, Finland and Bulgaria.

Assessment tool feedback

ETC is still waiting for feedback from Guilds. From what we have seen this far, we have managed to raise awareness around the Tool. This was done by the help of the digital workshop held in April with invitation to participate to all Guilds in ETC. It was an intro to the Tool, a first step which resulted in an open discussion and relevant questions from the Guilds. We still lack feedback from some of the Guilds. The feedback will be dealt with in our General Assembly in November and always in dialogue with the Guilds, we will come up with how to proceed with the Tool.

Those Guilds that have not provided feedback yet, please provide this as soon as possible, no later than November 3rd.

All our best wishes for a good fall season!
